Sesto Robotics

Moving Industries Forward

We started designing and delivering autonomous mobile robotics applications that solved complex material handling needs in the semicon and healthcare industry in 2017.

The experience gained from small and large fleet deployments in cleanroom and hospital environment led SESTO to sharpen its focus to develop and deliver AMR solutions for applications such as meals delivery in hospitals and nursing homes and material handling robots for manufacturing and warehouse facilities.

Today we are a leader in the AMR solutions for multiple customers who utilise our robots daily to automate their material flows.

Our Products

Magnus AMRs
One base
Multiple applications

Three payload options
Magnus MP200, MP300 and MP400 support compact shelves to long and heavy carts

Magnus Lifters
Lift trolleys, cages, and shelf applications

Built for lifting tasks
MP300L, MP400L, MP500L MP400S, MP600S, MP1000S, MP1000L handles payloads across 300 kg, 400kg, 500kg and 1,000 kg with controlled, stable lift motion

Magnus Forklift
Designed for pallet pickup

Three payload options
MF1000PT, MF1400PS, and MF1500PT, designed for pallet pickup

Magnus Applications
Designed for real-world operations

Engineered for real operations
Magnus applications support defined workflows, from Prime 2's mobile manipulation to Medibot's hospital logistics

MagFleet Software
Keeping operations moving in sync

Synchronises routes and tasks
MagFleet synchronises routes, tasks, and traffic across multiple robots to keep operations moving

Why Choose Us?

Solutions Focused

We deliver AMR solutions that meet customers' requirements. From simple AMR applications to complex AMR applications integrated to MES/WMS and equipment and tools

Customizable to Your Flow

Flexible hardware and software built to integrate seamlessly into your existing operations

Full Range of Products

From compact movers to heavy-duty lifters, SESTO covers every payload and application need

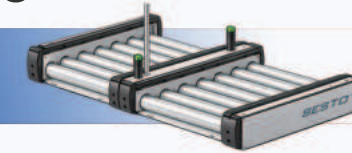

Design & Engineering Expertise

Our in-house team understands your process end-to-end by ensuring each solution is optimized for performance
